Book at Bedtime / Children in Need event

Dear Parents / Carers,

On Wednesday 11th November 2020, we are going to be running the 'Book at Bedtime' event again in school. For those of you new to St. Chad's, Book at Bedtime is a lovely event that we run every year where the children don snuggly pyjamas and come back to school for a drink, cookies and some fun bedtime stories. Of course, this year things will need to run slightly differently due to the current situation, but we are not going to let it cancel all our fun events!

This year, we want to combine Book at Bedtime with Children in Need (Children in Need is on Friday 13th November). We are proposing that the children could pay a £1 voluntary donation, to be given to Children in Need, to come into school on Wednesday 11th November in snuggly pyjamas and / or something spotty! If they want to take part in the Book at Bedtime event, they could then remain at school until 4.00pm (Key stage 1 and Reception children) or 4.10pm (Key stage 2 children) for some stories and snacks in class.

To stay within government guidelines, children would stay in their normal classrooms for Book at Bedtime and they would not mix with other classes (as has happened previously). The FRIENDS committee will also be providing a sealed bottle of water and biscuit snack prior to the event so no additional adults will be on site; thank you FRIENDS!

If you would like to sign your child up for Book at Bedtime, please give your consent on ParentPay by Tuesday 3rd November. If you want to give a voluntarily donation, there will be a donation box on the gate on the morning of 11th November. Children not attending Book at Bedtime are still welcome to wear spots / pyjamas to school on 11th November and any donations for this will be gladly accepted.

Kind regards,

Helen Ives
Key stage one leader / English coordinator
